ÉTABLISSEMENT Dauphine - PSL

ENVIRONNEMENT ET CONTEXTE DE TRAVAIL

Notre établissement fait partie de l'Université PSL. Située au cœur de Paris, celle-ci fait dialoguer tous les domaines du savoir, de l'innovation et de la création. Classée parmi les 50 premières universités mondiales, elle forme au plus près de la recherche des chercheurs, artistes, ingénieurs, entrepreneurs ou dirigeants conscients de leur responsabilité sociale, individuelle et collective.

MISSION D'ENSEIGNEMENT

PSL University is opening a short-term position for a Fellow in health economics for a maximum of 4 years, starting at least September 1, 2024 (possibly June 1, 2024). The Fellow will teach 60 hours of lectures ("cours magistraux") at the University Paris-Dauphine per year. The Fellow will also be expected to develop original research in health economics and economics of ageing, and to publish the results of his or her work in leading international journals. Research will be conducted at the LEDa, the research center in economics of the University Paris Dauphine-PSL, in partnership with the Institute for Digital Health in Society (Institut Santé Numérique en Société) at ParisSanté Campus and the SHARE France team.

- Teaching duties: Set up 60 hours of course per year in health economics / health data / health econometrics / digital economics / economics.

MISSION DE RECHERCHE

LEDA

- Research mission: The person recruited will develop his/her own research in health economics and economics of ageing within the LEDa and in partnership with the Institut Santé Numérique en Société at ParisSanté Campus and the SHARE France team. He/she will contribute to the development and animation of research within LEDa and PSL (presentation of his/her work, co-organization of seminars, publications) and may be part of the Institute for Digital Health in Society at ParisSanté Campus and of the SHARE-France team. His/her research may contribute to the literature on health data or digital health.

The person recruited will carry out his/her research within the LEDa (<https://leda.dauphine.fr/>). The LEDa is the economics department of the Université Paris Dauphine-PSL, associated with the French National Centre for Scientific Research (CNRS) and the Institute for Research in Development (IRD). The successful candidate will be able to interact with LEDa researchers specializing in health economics but also to interact with researchers from other PSL research centers.

The person recruited will carry out his/her research activities at the LEDa, located at Porte Dauphine (Paris 16th arrondissement). Teaching will take place at Université Paris-Dauphine-PSL.
